About the Programme

Gain a recognised qualification for library and information sector with this flexible, interactive training programme. It features expertly designed modules, covering topics such as legislation, management of information, preservation of data, continuous improvement and project management.

Designed to boost productivity, enhance communication, and improve workplace efficiency, this programme is the perfect investment in your employees' professional development.

Who is this programme for?

This Level 3 Library, Information & Archive Services Apprenticeship is ideal for individuals who are passionate about knowledge, learning and information across multiple sectors including education, medical, finance, business and more.

Employer Benefits

- Taking on a Libraries, Information and Archive Services (LIAS) Assistant Apprentice brings a wide range of benefits for employers across sectors such as public libraries, academic institutions, museums, corporate archives, and information services.
- Hiring an apprentice is a cost-effective way to grow your team. This apprenticeship is government-funded (up to 100% depending on the size of your business) and can be funded using the apprenticeship levy,
- Tailored training: Apprentices receive structured, nationally recognised training focused on library and information services, archives and digital skills.
- Industry relevance: The apprenticeship standard is designed in collaboration with employers to meet real workplace needs in the information and heritage sectors.
- Improves service delivery: With training in customer service, digital tools, and data handling, apprentices can enhance user experience and information access.
- Fresh Perspective and Digital Fluency: Apprentices often bring confidence with digital systems, social media, and online information management, aiding modernisation.
- Apprenticeship programmes can also be used to upskill existing members. By offering apprenticeships, you're investing in the future of your workforce. Apprentices are more likely to stay with employers who support their development, helping to improve staff retention rates and create a loyal, highly skilled team. Developing staff from within also boosts team morale and creates a positive working environment.

Sense of Purpose and Public Value - contributing to knowledge access, education, and cultural preservation can be deeply meaningful.

What will you learn

LMP's comprehensive curriculum blends theoretical learning with practical application, covering essential skills such as using information management processes to store, manage and retrieve records and data to support collaboration, exploitation and the organisation's Information Management (IM) practices, describing and arrange material/resource, and using enquiry techniques to clarify and meet users' information requirements and manage expectations.

You will expand your knowledge in areas such as the organisation's place within the wider, national library, archive, knowledge and information management sector, regulations regarding information use such as copyright, intellectual property, licensing and data protection, and the means of acquiring, maintaining, disposing of and locating documents, according to the organisation's collection management guidelines and legal obligations.

Off the job training

Off-the-job hours are a vital part of this apprenticeship. Training is directly relevant to the programme and can take many forms, including:

- Individual study time for reflection and growth
- Apprenticeship tutor sessions and webinars
- Group learning opportunities (like inset days)
- Shadowing experienced colleagues
- Mentoring from line managers
- 1:1 performance reviews and feedback
- Attending meetings and briefings
- Learning new policies
- Relevant YouTube/TV shows
- Professional development
- Online courses
- Enrichment activities
- Research and learning
- Collaborative planning/resource preparation

At LMP, the supportive tutors will work closely with you to create a personalised training plan that meets all requirements for this programme.

Striving for a Distinction - we provide distinction criteria for all apprentices and encourage everyone to strive for the best outcome.

End point assessment

End-point assessment (EPA) is an independent assessment that takes place at the end of the apprenticeship training. This is to test that the apprentice is competent in their occupation. All apprentices must complete an EPA. There are a variety of assessment methods to test apprentices' competency.

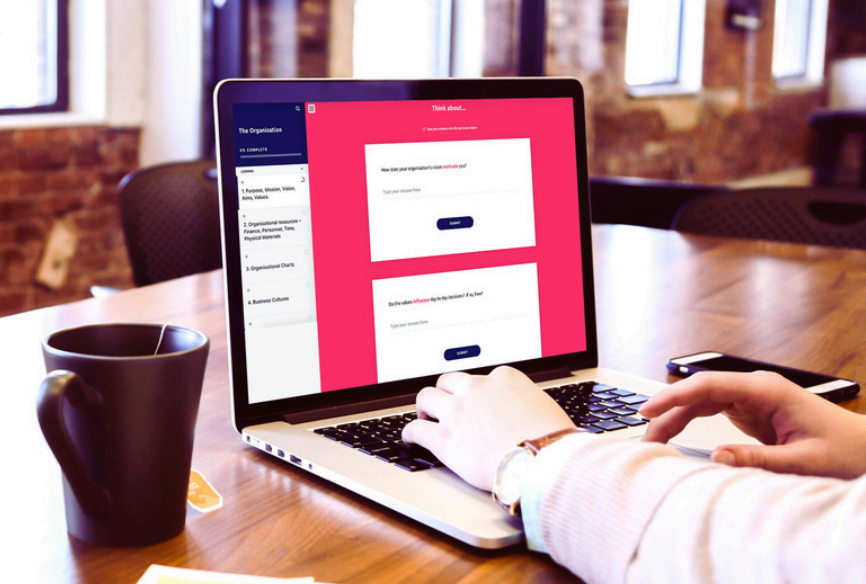

Gateway

Gateway takes place before an EPA can start. LMP Education will work with the employer to review their apprentice's knowledge, skills and behaviours. This period of time is used to see if the apprentice has met the requirements of the apprenticeship set out in the apprenticeship standard, and they are ready to take the assessment.

Functional Skills

LMP Education provides functional skills support to all our learners. While functional skills are no longer a requirement for learners who are 19+, LMP still offers functional skills training for those who choose to take the qualification.

Our Learners Say

“Apprenticeships are a good way to start a career from an entry level role. After my degree, I had a really hard time finding jobs in related industries because I wasn’t able to get relevant work experience due to the pandemic. Doing this apprenticeship, I’m now in a much better position through what I’ve learned in my qualification, the connections I’ve made and the varied work and training I’ve done in my role. ”
